Though the name sounds intimidating, Death Valley is a spectacular national park that spans two states, California and Nevada. A ruggedly, beautiful terrain, the park has lots to see and lots to offer. Because it is so large there are many different points of interest to visit. Get a tour of Scotty's Castle, a vacation mansion built during the Roaring '20s. There are so many canyons to see from Artist's Drive, to Natural Bridge, to Golden Canyon. Discover the wonders and mysteries that make Death Valley so unique.

Washington DC is a historic and political city. There are so many places to visit from buildings, to monuments, to museums, to landmarks. The metro system makes getting around easy, but the confusing grid quadrants make navigating tricky. If you love politics, visit the Capitol building and the White House. If you're a history buff you could spend days at the Smithsonians alone, let alone the National Archive, or the National Geographic Museum. Spend some time soaking up American history and culture.

Here is a list of the most common activities to do in District of Columbia as well as some hot spots that you could see!

Activities

Known as the Vegas of Asia, Macau has a rich heritage from both its Chinese and Portuguese past that includes many outstanding examples of western and oriental art and culture. Signs are in Chinese and Portuguese, there's still a significant Portuguese and Macanese population. Here you will find Chinese temples, catholic churches; ancient forts and other historical relics within a modern environment that bear testimony to a cultural blend of east and west.

Here is a list of the most common activities to do in Macau as well as some hot spots that you could see!
